Amended Budget Passed, City Relief Funds Saved

DEADLOCK BROKEN AS MAYOR, COUNCIL AGREE ON CHANGES

$390,000 Returned to Contingent Fund, Textbook Bill Provided For, Schools Given 3 Months to Absorb Deficit.

BANKS' APPROVAL EXPECTED BY KEY

Crisis Believed Averted Unless Injunction Halts Refunding of Bonds for Relief Purposes.

Federal relief funds, amounting to about $1,000,000 a month, were assured for Atlanta Monday and the council deadlock over adoption of a 1934 budget was broken, the mayor and all factions of council settling their differences and agreeing unanimously on compromises.

The action ends a 45-day impasse between opposing council blocs, and paves the way for the obtaining of bank loans to meet salaries for employees, payment of many back-due bills for supplies and other current obligations.

Mayor Key approved three amendments to the 1934 finance sheet immediately after council and the aldermanic board had acted on them, and added his sanction to a resolution providing $75,000 immediately for relief.

Agreement between the council factions came as a result of a crisis precipitated when Miss Gay B. Shepperdson, Georgia CWA and relief administrator, served an ultimatum that if steps were not taken to provide the $50,000 a month for relief, federal expenditures would be withdrawn.

$75,000 Allocation Suggested. During the afternoon Key held an informal conference with Miss Shepperdson and obtained her sanction to the $75,000 allocation, although it pays only half of the amount now due by the municipality. Key promised additional funds as soon as possible.

Key expressed confidence that members of the Atlanta Clearing House Association will lend their money on the sheet as adopted, but was concerned about the injunction sought to prevent the refunding of 1934 bonds, proceeds of which are pledged to federal relief.

The entire council and Key feel that the bonds must be refunded to preserve the federal funds for the city. If the courts should enjoin the refunding issue, the city would be unable to meet its obligation of $50,000 a month to the federal government. Judge W. B. Moore, of Fulton county superior court, has set a hearing on the injunction for Friday. City leaders, including all factions of council, contend that no new debt is incurred in the refunding, that the process is clearly legal and that all the city wishes to do is to defer a debt.

Georgia Nurse Is Held For New Mexico Killing

Miss Inez Callahan, of Augusta, Accused in Death of Henry B. McRight, 45-Year-Old War Veteran.

RATON, N. M., March 12.—(AP)—First-degree murder charges were prepared today against Miss Inez Callahan, Augusta, Ga., veterans' hospital nurse, for the death of Henry B. McRight, 45, war veteran, here Sunday, after a coroner's jury held the woman responsible for the fatal shooting.

Miss Callahan, who is alleged to have shot McRight while he lay in bed in their room at a campground, is purported to have run away with McRight and to have told Sheriff G. B. Fletcher, of Colfax county, they were en route to Mexico, where McRight was to obtain a divorce. His wife is said to be living near Jacksonville, Fla.

Miss Callahan told officers, Sheriff Fletcher said, that McRight was suffering from a delusion and that they scuffled over possession of a gun and that in the scuffle he was shot.

"He had a delusion," she told the sheriff, "and accused me of running around with other men."

A physician who examined the body testified there were no indications to bear out the woman's story of a struggle.

Sheriff Fletcher said when he arrived the gun, alleged to have been claimed by the woman as her own, was lying on the table, one shot fired. A small child was sitting on the bed, he said. The child, a 3-year-old girl, is said to have been adopted by the nurse, and officers were checking

CITIES IN 5 STATES MERGERS UPHELD BY HIGHEST COURT

Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada and California Areas Are Hit.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 12.—(AP)—The heaviest earth shocks ever recorded here rocked cities in north Utah and southern Idaho today, caused large buildings to sway, cracked the walls of some structures, and also jolted communities in southwestern Wyoming, Nevada and California.

At Ogden, Utah, a young woman died, evidently of fright. The home economics building of the Utah State Agricultural College at Logan, Utah, was damaged so badly it was stated it would be abandoned.

Schools here and at Logan and Tremonton, Minn., are conducting an examination of all buildings for possible weaknesses. The city and county building here also was vacated.

Reports here said the Preston, Idaho, high school building was cracked, the west wall being forced nearly six inches away from the side walls.

School officials expressed the belief the building would have to be abandoned. Large office buildings here shook and trembled in the shocks, beginning at 8:05 a. m. and continuing until 11:21 a. m., mountain standard time.

Windows and plaster were cracked, chandeliers swung several inches and furniture and dishes rattled. Some plaster fell from ceilings and a few chimneys toppled.

Delegates to the western governors conference, in session here during the shaking of her bed, told it was an earthquake, she died soon afterward.

Charles Bithell, 55, an employee of the city waterworks department here, was buried in the cave in of a six-foot trench. Foremen of the construction work blamed the quake, although the cavein occurred some time after the first shock. Bithell was taken from

ARMY TO RESUME CARRYING MAIL ON NINE ROUTES

Air Service To Be Restored 'Probably Today,' Says Announcement of Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—A list of the curtailed schedules which the army will fly when its mail planes go aloft again was made public today at the postoffice department, along with the assertion the army had said it was prepared to fly the mails at the time the private contracts were canceled. It was said the army would resume service over nine routes "probably tomorrow."

The new schedule, as made public by postoffice officials, includes: Boston to New York, New York to San Francisco, via Chicago and Salt Lake City; New York to Jacksonville, via Washington to Atlanta, Chicago to Dallas, via Kansas City and St. Louis; Salt Lake to Seattle, Salt Lake to San Diego, via Los Angeles; Chicago to Denver and Chicago to St. Paul.

Postoffice department officials also said they expected the army to take the air again tomorrow with the mail but at the war department it was said this was unlikely and no prediction would be made as to the time for resumption, although this was expected within the next two or three days.

The postoffice statement in the controversy over whether the army was consulted before the postmaster-general canceled the contracts or private companies and gave their job to the service was made by Harlow Branch, assistant postmaster-general.

Branch Quotes Foulis. With Postmaster-General Farley sitting by, Branch told newspapermen that he had consulted Major General Benjamin D. Foulis, chief of the army air service, on February 9—just a few hours before the contracts were canceled—about the ability of the army to take over.

Branch said Eugene Vidal, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, had told him that Foulis had been called in because the department of commerce is entrusted with supervision of airways, radio information and other ground service.

Branch asserted that Foulis was enthusiastic over the suggestion that the army carry the mail, commenting that it would give pilots more experience. The assistant postmaster-general said he submitted the proposed schedule of operations later in the day to head of the army air corps and that General Foulis said he thought that the army could take over in about 10 days.

"We have been planning the cancellation of the private contracts since the day the army was asked to take over," Branch said. "The army wanted for preparation in making the cancellation effective," Farley commented.

Branch said he carried the information given him by Foulis to the president, but did not know whether Mr. Roosevelt had other information. He said since February 9 of 10 army fliers caused the president to tell the war department that the facilities among army pilots carrying the mails must stop.

In consequence, no matter what makes here, a revision of present schedule and operation for safety's sake was under way.

The postmaster-general commented that the army planned to extend its operations in time beyond the nine routes already agreed upon. Other officials said, however, that they did not know when other operations would be added.

The feeling aroused both in and out of congress by the cancellation of the private contracts made itself felt again today and only the fact that the bill authorizing the army

RELIEF PROGRAM FOR RURAL AREAS PRESENTED HERE

State Directors From 12 Southern States Gather and Offer Permanent Rehabilitation Plans.

State directors of relief from 12 southern states Monday offered plans for permanent rehabilitation of rural areas, calling for expenditure of millions of dollars over a period of at least one year.

Open discussions on the needs of the southern farm tenant and landlord were held following a general outline of the program as suggested by the federal emergency relief administration.

Assistant National Administrator Lawrence Westbrook told the directors, representatives of agricultural institutions and state agricultural departments that a solution to the rural problem would wipe out the greater part of the relief trouble in the south.

Colonel Westbrook presided over the sessions in the absence of Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, who was delayed in arriving from Florida. Hopkins will preside over the sessions today.

Bean Optimistic. Louis H. Bean, economic advisor of the agricultural adjustment administration, was optimistic in his talk during which he told the state administrators and other conferees that the department of agriculture "may be able to transfer surplus livestock from certain areas to the needy sections," adding that this phase of the proposed plan was being investigated.

Bean said it was important that emphasis be placed on non-agricultural activities to produce cash incomes, on account of the crop-reduction program.

Westbrook said that almost any project which would be of benefit to the permanent rehabilitation would be approved by the federal government.

He added that practically the entire set-up with which the CWA was operated would be in charge of the national administration will lay down rules and regulations to state administrators as before.

The individual states will have planning boards, advisory committees, county organizations and community committees.

The community committees, he said, should be composed of honest representatives who had the program thoroughly at heart.

He added that the program would include a landlord, a tenant and a third party to be selected by the two or by the state or county board.

Aid for 16,000 families still on farms, but on relief rolls, 11,000 families or relief rolls living in towns after being forced off farms, and all rural families to receive benefit, was suggested by the Georgia delegation.

The program which the Georgians suggested be developed in the state included the first step toward subsistence; lending tenants cows and hogs; securing implements, supplies and work stock; advancing food for a limited time; development of garden projects; community canning projects; clothing project; housing program developed through landlords and state relief administrators.

Compensation to landlords was suggested to include repairing houses for tenants; labor of tenants on landlord's crops for a time to be agreed upon; setting up in business tenants who will probably become purchasers of their land later on.

Repayment to the state relief administrator would be made from toll from gardens, eggs, meats and feed, he said.

Between William C. Bullitt, new American ambassador, and Soviet leaders here, Bullitt himself is convinced that if the United States expects to get many orders from Russia in the future, American purchases of Russian products must be increased.

(The American export-import bank was chartered with $1,000,000 capital subscribed in Washington by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and is believed capable of financing American trade with Russia up to about $100,000,000. George N. Peek, foreign trade adviser to President Roosevelt, is head of the bank.)

A study of the question of greater American purchases of Russian goods is being made by the state department, Bullitt stated. He believed the plan can be arranged "without competing with home production."

Flushed with progressive increases in its own industrial production which is, more and more, reducing Russia's dependence on foreign machinery, the rulers in the Kremlin believe they are now in a strong bargaining position. Outlining the new state foreign trade policy toward the capitalist world, A. Roosevelt, commissar for foreign commerce, told this correspondent:

"We had to purchase heavily abroad to carry out our first five-year plan, but our success in establishing our own industrial bases and the means of production now places us in a position to fulfill our second five-year plan with considerably smaller imports, notwithstanding the fact that our capital investment in the plan will exceed that of the first."

Program To Aid Farmer Is Explained by Hopkins

By L. A. FARRELL. $200,000 of the $200,000,000 congress recently voted him to get the farmer back on the farm.

"But don't get the idea that we are going to let our farmers further dig up the markets," Mr. Hopkins said. "Nothing like that. They are going to raise crops chiefly for their own consumption, and not for distant markets. Their farms are too small to see that there are small industries or public projects where employment, say about

RUSSIANS TO SPUR GRAND JURY DROPS TRADE WITH U. S. CONTRACT INQUIRY

Soviet Group Will Visit America in Move To Increase Commerce.

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON. (Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.) MOSCOW, March 12.—(AP)—A Soviet trade mission will be sent to the United States soon to investigate the possibilities for increasing commerce between the two countries offered by the new American export-import bank, recently chartered at Washington to facilitate Russian trade, it was learned today by order of the justice department.

Official circles made it plain, however, that the expected trade revival between the Soviet and the American nation will be based on terms which communist leaders consider favorable to this country.

Russia will require, it was said, that purchases of Russian goods in the United States be made in the Soviet Union. One fair-sized sale of $250,000 worth of linen goods has just been made here by a New York firm there has been little other major commercial activity.

It was understood that Ivan Boer, vice commissar for foreign trade, will head the mission to New York and Washington. Definite plans are yet to be made but the mission probably will depart at an early date.

CLARET, district attorney, told reporters after the jury had acted:

"I presented all the evidence in the case before the jury. I did not ask

Georgia Representative Points Out Measure 'Does Not Cost Taxpayer Additional Cent or Unbalance Budget.'

VOTE OF APPROVAL GIVEN BY 295 TO 125

Ultimate Triumph for President on Both Bonus and Benefits Seen After Secret Party Meeting.

6 GEORGIANS VOTE FOR VETERANS' BILL

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—Six of Georgia's 10 representatives today voted in favor of immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus with new money, three voted against it and one was not recorded.

Those for the bonus were: Paul Brown, of Elberton, tenth district; J. T. Cantwell, of Cuthbert, third district; Emmett Owen, of Griffin, fourth district; Homer C. Parker, of Statesboro, first district; Robert Rampey, of Decatur, fifth district; Carl Vinson, of Milledgeville, sixth district.

Against the bonus: E. E. Cox, of Camilla, second district; M. C. Tarrar, of Dalton, seventh district; John Wood, of Canton, ninth district.

Not recorded: Braswell Deen, of Alma, eighth district.

By CECIL B. DICKSON.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—House democrats dared a promised veto late today to pass a bonus bill, then quietly agreed in caucus to support a plan to send $354,000,000 of veterans and pay increases to conference with the senate to seek a compromise acceptable to the president.

The bonus bill goes to the senate which so liberally amended the independent offices supply bill with veterans benefits as to bring upon it the threat of a veto if it were not changed.

Beaton on the bonus issue by a 205 to 125 vote for passage, house leaders hurriedly assembled the democrats into a caucus behind tight closed doors.

There the insurgents—or most of them—headed the plea of Representative Byrnes, and agreed to send the supply bill to conference without instructions from the house. There were 74 dissenters to such a course but 165 favored it.

By F. D. R. This means a compromise satisfactory to the White House may be worked out in the quiet of the conference room, but many members who modifications up in the house, the democrats will hold another caucus. Byrnes and his lieutenants will attempt once more to get the majority to agree to support the compromise if it is satisfactory to the White House.

If this should happen Mr. Roosevelt may win all along the line. Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the majority leader, predicted after a talk with the president late in the day that the $2,200,000,000 bonus measure would not pass the senate.

The house vote on the bonus measure was sufficient to override a presidential veto, but many members who voted for cash payment during today's tumultuous session undoubtedly would change their position after the bill.

Proponents of the measure, who worked machine-like in hammering down amendments, lost some ground

Doug and Mary Reconciled, London Informant Declares

By ALBERT W. WILSON. LONDON, March 12.—Lady Ashley, whose husband named Douglas Fairbanks Sr. as co-respondent in a recent divorce action, when told tonight a reconciliation between the actor and Mary Pickford was virtually assured, said she knew he was going to return to the United States but "I do not expect that will be for some time."

"I know he is going back for the opening of his picture, which he is just starting to make here," she said when told that Hollywood's erstwhile "ideal couple" was about to get together again.

"As for my own plans, they are rather indefinite for the moment," Lady Ashley, the former Sylvia Hawkes, a London actress, refused to discuss reports that she and Doug, whose company she was seen frequently in recent months, were ever considering marriage.

"I do not know anything about that," she asserted, and added: "It is not my place" to comment on the expected reconciliation of "Doug and Mary."

That the acrobatic Fairbanks and blond Mary Pickford are about to reunite the Associated Press learned from an indisputable authority today. Rumors that the reunion has been definitely effected were described by the informant as going "just a little too far."

A recent trans-Atlantic phone call, it was revealed, formed basis for the expected truce between the stars, whose decision last July to part company had caused the loss of millions of their admirers.

Miss Pickford in New York asserted "I have nothing to say. I am going home to Hollywood in a week or 10 days; to continue in pictures."

She appeared happy as she said she declined to discuss the telephone call.

The dawn of a new day for Doug is indicated by his actions as he goes about his work on suburban London movie lots with his old-time pep, laughing and joking.

Advocating planned production and the "transfer of the control of our basic sources of wealth from private ownership to a collective ownership," Kirby Page, of New York, editor of the magazine The World Tomorrow, spoke before a group of leading Atlanta civic and religious workers at Rich's tea room Monday.

Given as a "partial diagnosis of the nation's ills," Mr. Page's speech was titled "Economics of the Kingdom of God" and was warmly applauded by his audience.

"Society gets sick," Mr. Page said, "when some people get too much money and fail to spend it. Many of our so-called present-day investors have millions and millions of dollars which are not doing a lick of work."

Speaking on the industrial scene, Mr. Page said another great need was that of adopting efficiency in co-ordination of various production units.

"The economic society to which we are struggling," he continued, "must have security and plenty for everyone; leisure, time to live; justice and no oppression or unfounded exploitation, and fellowship with God and with each other."

Mr. Page said that nearly every person wants to work and summarized "the human desire for employment: Income and variations of income, responsibility, power, praise for work well done" and the fact that "if they don't work people are referred to as loafers and charged with a lack of patriotism."

The speaker advocated provision for sickness and old age in the form of insurance and use of taxation deliberately to create a new society, the income of which would be regulated

FAVORABLE REPORT ON PARK BILL SEEN

Measure May Reduce Minimum Acreage of Great Smoky Unit.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—Despite the opposition of some republican members, it appeared today that the house public lands committee tomorrow will report favorably the Weaver bill to reduce the minimum acreage of the Great Smoky Mountains national park and to allow addition to the park of land bought with money allocated by executive order.

Two republican members, Representatives Mott, of Oregon, and Edmonds, of Pennsylvania, criticized that part of the bill which would allow land to be purchased with $1,550,000 set aside by President Roosevelt from the emergency conservation fund to be added to the park.

Arno B. Cammerer, director of national parks, explained, however, that this land would be purchased any way and would be added to the public domain but the Weaver bill was necessary to give the park service authority to administer this land as part of the Smokies.

No objection was voiced to the proposal to reduce the minimum acreage from 427,000 acres fixed in the act creating the park in 1926 to 400,000. Cammerer and Representative Weaver, democrat, North Carolina, in whose district a large portion of the park lies, said that the approximately $10,000,000 raised by North Carolina and Tennessee with the aid of a $5,000,000 gift from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller memorial, was not sufficient to purchase the 427,000 acres and therefore the reduction was asked.

The Rockefeller gift was contingent upon the states raising a similar amount, with the fund matching donations dollar for dollar up to $5,000,000. As approximately $500,000 in pledges have not been paid, Cammerer said use of the $1,550,000 allocated by the president would enable the park to receive approximately $500,000 from the Rockefeller fund.

Young Ringling Deserts Career Of Singer To Follow 'White Tops'

SARASOTA, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Deserting a career on the operatic stage to follow in his father's footsteps, Robert E. Ringling, son of one of the seven Ringling brothers of circus fame, has responded to the lure of the "white tops."

John Ringling, last survivor of the seven brothers, has been in poor health for the past two seasons, unable personally to travel with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey combined circus, and this year he will devote his available time to other business interests not so strenuous as the annual tour.

The Ringlings always attributed their success in the amusement world to personal contact with the public and until recently there has always been one bearing that name at the door of the "big top" beaming with "and to see you."

And now another Ringling will carry on the family tradition.

Announcement was made today by Samuel W. Gumpert, managing director at the winter quarters of the show here, that Robert Ringling has acquired a financial interest in the firm from his mother, one of the owners of the circuses under Ringling management.

Robert, president of the Ringling Trust and Savings bank here which recently liquidated, paying its depositors in full, was for many years a member of the Chicago Civic Opera Company. He studied voice extensively abroad and had a series of American tours in which he gained notable success.

SPURIOUS 'RED' LIQUOR SEIZED BY 2 DEPUTIES

Another batch of spuriously-labeled whiskey was seized by Deputy Sheriffs W. R. (Cap) Joyner and S. G. Davies Monday night in an apartment on Carnegie way. Between 50 and 70 quarts of liquor labeled Bacardi, gin, rye and corn were destroyed.

Officers arrested a young white man who gave the name of Bill Cox and lodged him in Fulton tower on a charge of violating the state prohibition laws.

WARNING SOUNDED ON NRA CHISELING

Code Violations in Future To Get Speedier Disciplinary Action.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—Radical changes in NRA's program of code enforcement are coming. The administration expects to cut out the long delays now occurring before reported chiselers are disciplined.

The precise line to be taken will be chosen formally probably as soon as some pending court cases against code violators are settled. If restraining orders are obtained to stop the violation in one or two cases injunction proceedings may be used wholesale.

This is regarded as the swiftest method for making chiselers suffer in the pocketbook, which officials view as a very sensitive business organ.

Hugh S. Johnson has made up his mind that compliance work must be a keystone of NRA work and he intends to get this part of the reform program now under way worked out as fast as any of the code changes.

Regulations for use of the new, code-numbered Blue Eagle have been delayed so far because of trouble in working out an equitable and thoroughly legal way of making displayers of the eagle contribute their share of the expense of administering the code. Johnson wants the symbol to be accessible to every legitimate employer but does not want to put a bonus on non-compliance in the task of industrial self-government.

Actual shortening of hours is not expected to become general before April 15 at the earliest, and more likely May 1. Other code changes dealing with price control and other trade practices, may be ordered into effect before that.

One program Johnson wants to push hard is a marked change in industrial labor relations. He has assigned Nelson Slater, New England cotton man, to promote the formation of labor boards in many industries along the pattern of those adopted by textiles with apparent success.

W. H. Davis, compliance director, is seeking to have many steel and automobile companies with company union plans for employee representation, withdraw from all control over these unions to conform with the declaration of the industrial act for workers' liberty to choose their own spokesmen any way they see fit. Davis wants to avoid court battles if possible to keep strikes from breaking down industrial production.

1 Killed, 5 Injured In Clash at Havana

HAVANA, March 12.—(AP)—One man was killed and five wounded today in Havana's syndicalist strike and, as a result, Mendes Pente, secretary of labor, resigned from the government of President Carlos Mendieta.

The clash between strikers and strike-breakers which caused shooting and the resulting death were regarded as due to a misunderstanding as to the hour Mendieta's decree dissolving the labor syndicate became effective.

Approximately 20 employers claimed the decree was effective at midnight Saturday and that the decree authorized them to ignore the syndicate and operate on its open-shop basis.

Noted Outlaw Fighter Succumbs in Seattle

SEATTLE, March 12.—(AP)—A famous outlaw fighter of the old west, Joel E. "Eagle Eye" Warren, who survived at various times the bullets of 14 bad men and became the terror of lawbreakers, died today with his boots off at the age of 74.

His left foot was amputated recently because of an old injury and an ensuing infection spoiled his vitality.

Fifty years ago tomorrow he became Spokane's first policeman. Later "Eagle Eye" joined the gold rush to Alaska and then the department of justice. Later he served as police chief of Seattle under four mayors. He organized a detective agency and still later became a deputy sheriff.

1 DEAD, 5 RESCUED IN FIRE ON BOAT

TAMPA, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—One man died and five had narrow escapes yesterday from a fire aboard their boat in Tampa bay.

The dead man is Alfred Griddlestone, 48, Tampa automobile salesman.

J. R. Rose, Tampa, General Motors Company employee, was rescued unconscious, but recovered in a hospital.

Others taken from the burning boat were C. E. Beckstrom, used-car dealer; D. E. Trimmer, D. E. Lynd and H. L. Smith, all employees of General Motors Company and all from Tampa except Smith, who gave Jacksonville, Fla., as his home.

Members of the party said the engine ignited gasoline in the bottom of the boat after the fuel line broke while they were trying to rescue Griddlestone and Rose. Griddlestone, they said, fell overboard and Rose went in after him.

TEXAN AGAIN ATTACKS BANKHEAD COTTON BILL

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—Representative Terrell, democrat, Texas, attacked again today the Bankhead cotton acreage control bill.

In a statement offered for the record the Texan, who has opposed administration measures before, said the bill was tantamount to government control of farming operations and asserted the people of his state, the nation's biggest cotton producer, did not favor the bill.

"Texas produces 5,000,000 bales of cotton annually, and can easily produce 10,000,000 bales, which is all that is allowed for the cotton-producing states, under this bill," he said.

'CHISELING' IS CHARGED TO LUMBER CONCERNS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 12.—(AP)—Charges that one larger lumber company and a number of small mills are "chiseling" on the Lumber Code Authority, Inc., were made at an executive meeting here today for the Authority's divisional agency, the Hardwood Manufacturers' Institute, Inc.

F. R. Gaid, code enforcement official of the institute, laid the charges before the directors, but did not make public the names of those accused of violating wage and hour agreements of the code.

Slash in Rates Would Force NRA Violation, Say Truckers

Protesting that a reduction of rates would put them out of business or force them to be violators of the NRA, truck line operators Monday told the Georgia public service commission that none of them now is making money and that expenses are increasing.

The motor carriers contended before the commission it would not be possible to comply with any rate cut and meet the requirement of the code of fair competition of the trucking industry.

John L. Hynds, legal adviser of the NRA in Atlanta, Monday night said that if the commission cut truckers' rates below the cost of rendering service, the carriers would be liable to prosecution for violation of the code authority. His opinion applies both to interstate and intrastate trucking.

Truckers have declared that legitimate carriers would be forced from the highways by a reduction and that all traffic thus would be given to railroads and "bootlegger" trucks.

The principal witnesses were James C. Williams Jr., president of the Williams Transportation Company of Athens, and Harry L. Spring, vice president and general manager of the Georgia Highway Express.

Both said they were losing money on the present rate, and denied there was any more business to be obtained through lower rates.

Spring said the rising cost of supplies resulting from other NRA codes, and his own compliance with the president's general industrial code already had increased his operating expenses 35 per cent, and added that the new trucking code would cause a further increase.

It was Williams who testified it would be impossible to comply with both the code and a rate reduction order.

The motor carriers interpreted the order for the investigation of truck rates as a proposal for a 27 1/2 per cent reduction in the general rate levels. That was about the amount of cut ordered for railroad rates on fertilizer last week. Other railroad rates are under investigation, on a rule not identical with that in the truck case, in hearings not yet complete.

The commission took the truck rates under advisement.

The railroad case will be resumed today.

The government of Mexico recently ordered Brinkley's station off the air.

Significance of Macon Mounds Revealed as Work Progresses

MACON, Ga., March 11.—(Extension)—Excavations on a site where may have been located the ancient capital of the Creek Confederacy—which would have been one of the most important places in North America before the days of European settlement—are being carried on by the Smithsonian Institution in co-operation with the state of Georgia.

This is now represented by a group of mounds here formerly in the midst of an extensive Indian settlement. It was visited in 1778 by the trader Bartram, who wrote concerning it: "If we are to give any name to the account the Creeks give of themselves, the place is remarkable for being the first town (or settlement) where they sat down after their immigration from the west, beyond the Mississippi, their original native country. On this long and numerous difficulties, encountering and vanquishing numerous and varied tribes of Indians who opposed and retarded their march. Having crossed the river, still pushing eastward, they were obliged to make a stand and fortify themselves in this place as their only remaining hope, being to the east of the river and weakened by their surrounding foes."

"Having formed for themselves this retreat, and driven off the inhabitants which included women officials, newspapermen and photographers."

First Lady Refuses Police Escort In Tour of Twelve Coastal Towns

By BESS FURMAN.

ARECIBO, Puerto Rico, March 12.—(AP)—Helen D. Roosevelt, traveling this time by automobile, dashed over narrow country roads today on an inspection tour of the coastal towns.

The indefatigable first lady left San Juan this morning with her somewhat winded party, refusing the offer of a police escort, to seek first-hand knowledge of the needlework industry, one of her main objectives in the trip to Puerto Rico.

Large crowds of islanders cheered her at Arecibo, where she was met by the governor, who had been heralded in Spanish. On the soda fountain mirror of the hotel was written in latest news: Mrs. Roosevelt to be in Arecibo Monday.

Here she visited the women's prison, where fine lace is made, the prisoners getting 50 per cent of the proceeds.

Mayor Rivera, of Arecibo, said the prison had been "a terrible place" but jailers had scrubbed and whitewashed it against her possible inspection.

On a knolltop near Arecibo a picnic luncheon was eaten by the party.

JONES, MRS. SHEPARD TO HAVE DOUBLE RITES

Double funeral services will be held this afternoon for Mrs. Martha Louise Shepard, 73, of 1225 Clairmont avenue, Decatur, who died Sunday night, and for her son-in-law, Wiley I. Jones, 38, whose death from a self-inflicted bullet wound occurred in a private hospital Saturday afternoon.

The services will be held at 2 o'clock in the chapel of Avery & Lowry, Dr. D. P. McGee, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church, will officiate, and interment will be in the Decatur cemetery.

Mrs. Shepard lived with her daughter. She had been ill for several days and her condition became so critical Sunday morning that the funeral of Mr. Jones, who was a widely known furniture man, was postponed indefinitely. Services for him were to have been held Monday.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Shepard is survived by two sons, Fred and George Shepard, both of Atlanta.

Mr. Jones is survived by his wife; two daughters, and several other relatives. Members of his family found him in his room last Thursday night with a bullet wound in the chest and a rifle near by. He had been despondent because of ill health which forced his retirement from business several months ago after about 30 years as manager of the furniture departments of several Atlanta retail stores.

Atlanta Lagging Far Behind In Bowdon Red Cross Drive

Only $300 was received by the Red Cross Monday toward the $15,000 Atlanta quota for the relief of tornado victims at Bowdon, officials announced as plans were being made for a thorough canvass of the city by committees of men and women.

Twenty additional members were added to the committee headed by Mrs. Max E. Land Monday morning at a meeting at the Atlanta Woman's Club, at which J. L. McGirt, of Carrollton, told Atlantans of the real stress and suffering residents of Bowdon had undergone as a result of the tornado.

Mrs. Land will direct her workers in canvassing clubs, business companies and private individuals and a new committee of business and professional men will be formed today by W. Eugene Harrington, who is directing the storm relief fund, to aid the women in their work.

Atlanta so far has raised only $4,800 of the $15,000 and leaders urged that more voluntary contributions be made. Mr. McGirt, who is chairman of the Carrollton Red Cross chapter and a Presbyterian minister, praised the Red Cross for the work already done in the storm area but emphasized the need for further help. Many families are still homeless and will become public charges unless aided back to their feet at once.

Donations may be sent to Mr. Harrington, at 72 Marietta street, the Red Cross, or to The Constitution.

Those who contributed Monday included: Mrs. Julius M. Alexander, Mrs. H. G. Bass, Mrs. Eda E. Bartholomew, Capital View Methodist church, Dr. Hal M. Davidson, Samuel E. Dobbs, Harriet E. Emerson, Mrs. F. C. Fress, Herbert W. Finch, Ruth and Sylvia Feldman, Girls' High School, P. T. A. Jr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hoots, Joseph N. Hilsman, Mrs. Florence H. Hilsman, Mrs. E. Lamar, Mrs. P. L. REBUTTAL WITNESSES DENY DEAL BY REECE

State Testimony Aimed To Refute Former Official's Allegations.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 12.—(UP)—The state presented rebuttal witnesses today in an attempt to refute the allegations of a "political deal" contained in Joseph I. Reece's denial of grand larceny charges. Reece, former state commissioner of insurance and banking, is being tried on charges of stealing $100,000 in bonds from the department. He claims the bonds were given him by his successor in office, Joseph S. Tobin, for sale to settle political campaign deficits.

One of these deficits, Reece has testified, was $22,000, which he claimed to have donated to the finance committee of Governor Hill McAlister's gubernatorial campaign in 1932, out of unadjusted back tax funds in his custody.

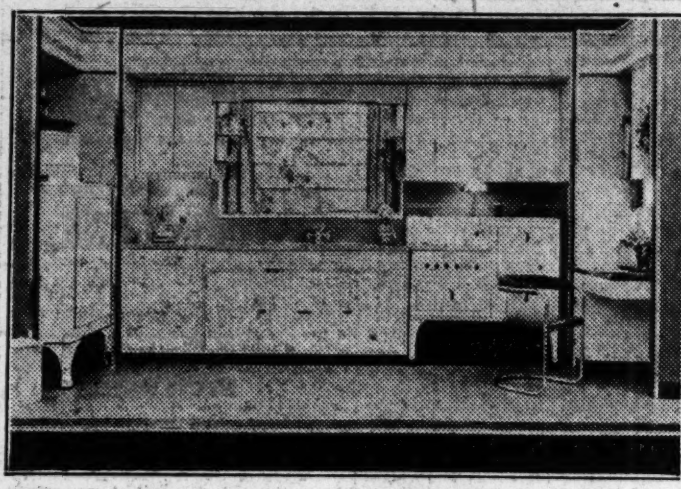

Tobin turned the bonds over to him, the defendant claimed, under an agreement whereby other bonds were to be substituted for them from the National Burial Association Insurance Company, of Memphis, to cover up contributions from "power interests." Charles Bryan, Memphis attorney and chairman of the board of the National Burial Association Insurance Company, went on the stand today to deny that he ever had any conversation with Reece regarding the alleged bond substitution proposal. He also denied any connection with power companies for a number of years.

Blair Maxwell, employed in Bryan's law firm office, denied that he ever discussed the proposal or Tobin's appointment with Reece, as the latter had testified.

Both Bryan and Maxwell said the National Burial Association did not own any power company securities, which Reece had said were to be put up in place of the bonds he is accused of stealing.

U. S. Gold Purchases Up to $593,069,609

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(UP)—Treasury gold purchases from February 1 through March 9 were put today by Secretary Morgenthau at $593,069,609. This included all gold, newly mined, scrap or foreign.

During the week ended March 9, purchases dropped $43,841,306 from the previous week's aggregate of $159,743,052. Receipts of silver during the week ended March 9 were 126,604 ounces, bringing the total taken by mints under President Roosevelt's coinage plan to 1,544,514 ounces.

Morgenthau said treasury purchases of government securities for investment amounted to $6,900,000 during the week ended March 10.

Escape Attempt Fails, One Prisoner Killed

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., March 12.—(UP)—Three makeshift pistols failed to open the gates of San Quentin prison for four desperate convicts today, but the freedom-bent quartet accidentally killed another prisoner before they were overpowered by guards in a hard-to-hand struggle.

Taking advantage of a heavy fog, the four men boldly attempted to escape over the wall by a ruse. Guards said the attempted break apparently was led by Eithan A. McNab, 36. He was assisted by William Bagley, 42; Lewis H. Downs, 20, and George Frederick, 30.

The convict slain was John Hubert Arbuckle, 20, who was shot through the chest apparently by accident when McNab's weapon exploded a shell.

VIGILANTE NOT NEEDED, MAYOR TELLS MEETING

Men of Justice Informed That Civilian Policy Would Be Disastrous Move.

Asserting that "a civilian police was disastrous to the well-being of Atlanta a few years ago" and that such another organization was not needed, Mayor James L. Key spoke to more than a hundred persons in the city auditorium Monday night at a mass meeting sponsored by the Men of Justice, Atlanta fraternal group.

Though the meeting had been publicized as one to consider formation of an armed group of citizens to combat criminals, the reference by Mayor Key was the only mention of such a group.

Presided over by Charles O. Barrett, president of the Men of Justice, Alderman Everett Millican discussed city government in the first address. He urged reduction in the number in council and a method to increase revenue for the city.

Mayor Key and Dr. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor and educator, deplored the "apathy of people who do not vote." Both said good government can be obtained only through the use of the ballot.

"When the citizens do not vote, men in office cater to special groups," the mayor said. He also urged support of the police department on the part of citizens and discussed "the endangered credit of Atlanta."

Hitting Henry Ford, the motor car manufacturer, "for his individual and greedy policies," Dr. Dodge said in individualism and corruption in high places had caused the economic distress now hurting America.

"Big men must be stopped from their parade of greed," said Dr. Dodge, "and the rottenness which begins at the top must be cured. Police cannot be blamed for crime and it is human nature to steal when hungry if such is the only alternative."

He asserted that the widespread crime here is the result of unemployment.

9 Persons Rescued From Florida Boat

MIAMI, Fla., March 12.—(UP)—Coast guard officials here wrote another rescue into their log today as the seaplane Arcturus picked up nine persons after they had spent a cold night with their stranded fishing boats.

I. S. Copeland, head of a soft drink bottling company here, and his son, Billy, 5, and Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoun and their daughter, Dorothy, 17, of Miami, were rescued from the auxiliary cruiser Dawn. It left here yesterday and became stranded on a coral flat south of Cape Florida Light.

Four Cubans comprised the other party. They were Aurelio Padron, 28; Manuel Padron, 16; Jose Artigiano, 32; and Juan Garcia, 40. They spent the night on a concrete-bottom derelict in Biscayne bay after their rowboat was stove in and sunk.

C. T. Thrum, chief gunner at the coast guard base here, was in command of the rescue plane.

ALABAMA SEES RIGHT TO SUE RAIL COMPANY

The right of Robert J. McKnight, an employee of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway, to sue that railroad in Jefferson county, Alabama, for injuries received at Memphis, Tenn., was argued Monday in the supreme court. J. K. Jackson contended that as the railroad operated in Alabama his client had the right to sue it there, while L. V. Gardner Jr. insisted as counsel for the railroad that Alabama supreme court was right in holding that the courts of that state had no jurisdiction to try a suit brought under the federal employers' liability act against a corporation of another state for injuries suffered in another state.

COAST GUARD BASES TO BE DECOMMISSIONED

Due to the $7,000,000 cut in the appropriation for the coast guard, officials of that bureau said Monday decomposition of a number of bases "seems imperative." The first step in meeting the curtailment was decommissioning of all coast guard destroyers. They numbered eight. A survey now is being made to determine just what bases must be eliminated.

AMERICAN STUDENT'S BODY RECOVERED AT BAGHDAD

UNDERSECRETARY URGED FOR U. S. FARM DEPARTMENT

Secretary Wallace has asked Chairman Smith, democrat, South Carolina, of the senate agriculture committee to propose a joint resolution authorizing appointment of an undersecretary of agriculture "in order to more effectively handle the constantly increasing pressure of business" in his department. No additional appropriation of $10,000 a year salary, Wallace said. It was understood that the new post would go to Rexford G. Tugwell, now assistant secretary.

FRESH OYSTER CODE APPROVED BY JOHNSON

The oyster code embodies the labor provisions of the master code for the fisheries industry with a few exceptions, in general more restrictive.

SMITH, CUMMINGS TO CONFER ON JUDGESHIP CHOICE

Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, said Monday he plans to confer today with Attorney-General Cummings on any recommendations he might make for appointment as federal judge of the eastern South Carolina district. At the same time, the name of Representative McMillan, democrat, South Carolina, of Charleston, entered the list of possible successors to the late Judge Ernest F. Cochran, when it was disclosed he has been endorsed for the position by members of his own delegation and those of more than half a dozen other southeastern states.

Prevention of Crime Urged by Underwood

Crime should be prevented as well as punished, Judge F. Marvin Underwood told the new federal grand jury in a charge Monday. Charles W. West, of Atlanta, was made foreman and 15 indictments were returned involving minor offenses.

Pointing out that crime is the most expensive practice a community can indulge in, the court pointed out that it had been seized in the United States, largely through CCC camps, which had given employment to hundreds of young men made idle by the depression. He mentioned schools and playgrounds, slum clearance and better economic conditions as crime deterrents.

He called the attention of the jurors to various federal offenses which would be brought before it, and said that the collective bargaining clause of the NRA might become an object of jury investigation. Former prohibition violations would now be dealt with as violations of the revenue act, he said, and he stressed the need of effective enforcement of the narcotics act which had brought pitiable cases into the court. He also called attention to new legislation, such as the new securities act and the new banking law.

It means something—

Perhaps the best type of machine ever built for moistening tobacco. Recently perfected from a model built in our factory and now used in the manufacture of Chesterfield Cigarettes.

This picture shows the machines used to remove the stems from Chesterfield tobacco.

THIS most modern way of moistening tobacco for stemming—first used in the manufacture of Chesterfields—opens up the pores and puts the tobacco in condition to remove the stems.

The tobacco is put into the wire baskets stems down and enters the long steel ovens where the steam comes up from below, softening the stems without wetting the rest of the leaf.

The stems are removed by stemming machines of the latest type.

Everything that modern science knows about, or money can buy, that can make a milder cigarette, a cigarette that tastes better, is used in making Chesterfield.

City Hall Mourns as Death Takes Henry Bruce, 75, Veteran Porter

The Atlanta city hall official family, from Mayor James L. Key to the humblest employee, was gripped Monday by the death of Henry Bruce, 75-year-old negro porter in the office of Chief of Construction Clarke Donaldson, who died at the city hall.

Henry Bruce, 75-year-old negro porter in the office of Chief of Construction Clarke Donaldson, who died at the city hall.

Bruce, an ante-bellum negro of the old school, was something more than a porter. He was an institution. He held the respect of every one with whom he came in contact. He was courteous, efficient, despite his years, and a good negro.

The latter phrase was one he liked. He was a white man's negro. He loved the white men, and they held a deep regard for him.

He had been an employee of the city since 1910, and stayed on his job.

'Number' Pair Arrested For Failure To Pay Off

Because the number game didn't pay off when he guessed the correct figures, Hollis Fletcher, negro, of rear 351 Martin street, took his troubles to the police Monday and two persons found themselves in jail as the result.

Louise Burns, negro, of 325 King street, and John Caldwell, negro, of a Woodward avenue address, were those taken into custody on the plea of Fletcher. Fletcher averred he had the exact number and the woman and Caldwell would not pay him. So he had them arrested. He said the right number was 301, and tickets bearing that figure were found in Caldwell's home, police said. Detectives Barge and White are investigating.

Previously, he was a bartender at the Atlanta Elks' Club, in the "good old days" when there wasn't any prohibition system and no high-powered bootleg liquor.

In his job there he made friends and numbered some of Atlanta's most prominent men among his acquaintances. He knew them all, and they knew him. He started mixing without any orders. He knew what they wanted, how they wanted it, and almost sensed what they wanted.

There will be many sorrowing friends at Henry's funeral Wednesday afternoon at Big Bethel church.

One prominent department head at the city hall expressed the whole thing aptly Monday when he said: "The city hall and city hall employees have been criticized for doing this and that, but I want to say that if we all attended to our business with the same conscientious application and diligence which characterized Henry's work, there would be much less such criticism."

Moore and W. C. Moseley.

Two hundred and twenty-five dentists from every state in the south-east attended the opening session Monday of the Thomas P. Hinman mid-winter dental clinic at the Biltmore hotel to hear some of the nation's leading authorities on dentistry discuss and demonstrate the most improved methods of the profession.

The clinic, with Dr. R. D. Robinson, president of the Fifth District Dental Society, presiding, will bring its twenty-second annual convention to a close today following a progressive series of laboratory lectures which began Monday morning.

Founded by the late Dr. Thomas P. Hinman Sr., the body's membership is composed only of dentists who are members of the American Dental Association. Each year the clinic obtains men who are leaders in their respective fields to instruct its members. Speakers before the current gathering include Dr. Hugh W. McMillan, of Cincinnati; Dr. Edward Bartlett Spaulding, of Detroit; Dr. William B. Dunning, of New York; Dr. George B. Winter, of St. Louis, and Dr. Arthur H. Merritt, of New York.

Reduction of the personnel of council will be one of the major matters to be considered at a meeting at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Athletic Club by members of a special committee of 18 created to recommend proposed charter changes.

Alderman W. Guy Coleman, of the first ward, and Councilman J. Raymond Curtis, of the tenth, were among the latest of the council members to sanction the proposal Monday.

Alderman G. Everett Millican, chairman of the committee, is in favor of the move and is one of the original sponsors of the program. Members were invited to attend a dinner prior to discussions at tonight's meeting.

School Budget Change Must Be Made Today

Action by city council Monday in agreeing to assume the $58,000 1932 school book debt of the Atlanta board of education will force a revision of the school budget, because of the fact that a $300,000 fund against which school budgeted in the tentative sheet is withdrawn.

The board meets this afternoon, and must strike $322,000 from the tentative sheet if it is to prepare a balanced sheet for submission to Mayor James L. Key.

School leaders asserted Monday night that salary cuts in excess of the 3 per cent for low bracket employees and 13 per cent for those in the higher frames, which are imposed on non-school employees, will be mandatory.

The figure is arrived at through the fact that the tentative sheet had a $68,000 reserve fund, which can be credited against the $300,000, which must be absorbed from the original tentative sheet.

Take advantage of this wonderful offer today. Visit or phone the Fuller Brush Studio, or buy it from the Fuller Brush Men who call at your home.

AID OF DILLINGER ON TRIAL IN OHIO

Desperado Reported En Route to Lima to Seek to Free Henchmen.

LIMA, Ohio, March 12.—(AP)—Another of Slippery John Dillinger's henchmen went on trial for murder here today in a nest of machine guns.

Common Pleas Judge E. E. Everett announced today from the bench he had received word Dillinger is en route to Lima with a jail-wrecking crew.

At Columbus, Governor George White and his daughter were put under an armed guard. Lima itself was spotted with the khaki of national guardsmen.

On trial was Charles Makley, charged with the murder of former Sheriff Jess Barber last October when the desperate Dillinger was "sprung" from the jail here in a medley of pistol shots.

The brief announcement from the bench regarding the imminence of a raid by Dillinger to release Makley, Harry Pierpont—convicted early Sunday and sentenced to die—and Russell Clark, fell on a tempestuous court scene.

"We have received direct word," said Judge Everett, "that Dillinger is on his way here with armed men."

Tending to support the statement, which officials declined to amplify, was a report earlier in the day that Dillinger, who walked out of the Crown Point, Ind., jail last week, had been seen at Toledo, some 60 miles north-east of here.

Judge Everett made the statement as he overruled a defense motion for a change of venue based on the charge that military preparations here are prejudicial.

Makley, a pleasant-faced man, walked into court today with his hands in iron cuffs. His legs were chained as soon as he was seated.

Rumors concerning the whereabouts of Dillinger continued to flit through this town. Some were so serious that General Harold M. Bush, in charge of national guardsmen, forwarded them to his headquarters in Columbus, resulting in the placing of a guard around Governor George White's official home.

"Ninety-eight per cent of the rumors are false, but 2 per cent of them appear to have basis in truth," General Bush said.

Governor White said the reason he acquiesced to the placing of the guard was that Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson told him Indiana officials had found indications of a plot on the Indiana executive mansion in Dillinger's effects when he was captured at Dayton last September. He was seized at that time in connection with robbing a Bluffton, Ohio, bank.

V. C. MARTIN, 60, DIES; WAS EMPLOYEE OF CITY

V. C. Martin, 60, of 842 Norcross street, S. W., assistant building inspector in the office of C. J. Bowen, died early Monday after a brief illness. He would have observed the 22d year of his employment on Wednesday.

For six years until 1912, Mr. Martin was plant superintendent of the old Woodward Lumber Company. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. N. L. Davis; two sons, V. C. Martin Jr. and E. F. Martin; two sisters, Mrs. W. D. Wallace, of Waco, Texas, and Mrs. G. E. Harris, of Los Angeles, Cal., and two brothers, W.

Ohio Governor Guarded Against John Dillinger

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 12.—(UP)—Riflemen of the Ohio militia tonight patrolled Governor George White's home here and a body guard remained at the executive's residence throughout the day as authorities took precautions against possible violence by John Dillinger.

Fearing the outlaw might be as bold as to attempt kidnapping of the governor or a member of his family to force release of his three confederates held in Lima, Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson ordered the guard for the governor today.

FATHER MAY NOT GET RIGHT TO HANG NEGRO

JACKSON, Miss., March 12.—(AP)—Final passage of a legislative bill permitting Clyde Collins, of Holly Springs, to hang three negroes convicted and sentenced to die for criminally attacking his young daughter, today appeared unlikely. The hangings are scheduled for March 16.

Under a recent ruling of Attorney General Greek L. Rice legislation authorizing sheriffs to deputize persons outside their respective counties is necessary before Collins could qualify to spring the trap, since he is not a resident of DeSoto county.

A bill removing this obstruction was approved by the senate last week and immediately transmitted to the lower chamber in view of securing action before March 16. Tonight, however, Representative Walter Sellers, chairman of the house judiciary committee, hinted his committee will not report the bill out before March 16.

Apparently still fatigued from the Gulf coast junket, both houses of the legislature dragged through unusually dull sessions today, acting on few bills and adjourning early.

The senate gave unanimous approval to a house bill suspending all state anti-trust laws in conflict with the national recovery act during the lifetime of the federal recovery program. The bill now goes to Governor Bennett Comer, who has indicated he will sign it.

The house, faced with a 44-bill calendar, passed four unimportant bills.

GRAND JURY DROPS CONTRACT INQUIRY

for any specific indictments. The case is now closed so far as this office is concerned.

A report in authoritative circles was that the jury was willing to indict two or three of the six or more principals alleged to have figured in the conspiracy, but was advised that legal experts were of the opinion that all or none of them should be indicted.

Coincident with announcement that the jury would delve into army contracts, Secretary Dorn said Joseph Silverman Jr., a New York dealer in surplus war supplies, had been barred from his office and that of Woodring.

The grand jury inquiry was recorded officially at the courthouse as the case of the United States versus "Silverman and others."

The sale and purchase of underclothing and motor vehicles were understood to have been the specific objects of the jury's investigation.

C. Martin, of Brownsville, Texas, and I. B. Martin, of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son.

The Rev. Fred L. Glisson and the Rev. W. T. Hamby will officiate and interment will be in old Decatur cemetery.

COUNCIL APPROVES AMENDED BUDGET

in order to aid in the fight for recovery.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, was immensely pleased when informed of the action of the city council Monday night immediately after his arrival from Florida.

"I'm glad that council acted to keep Atlanta on the federal budget," Administrator Hopkins said. "It would have been very unfortunate to cut the city off but the local governments must do their share or else our whole program would collapse."

Three Amendments Approved.

The following three amendments to the finance sheet paved the way for the compromise when Key approved them:

1. Returned to the contingent fund a $300,000 controversial allocation, against which schools were permitted to budget in the original budget.

2. Allowed payment of a 1932 school book bill amounting to $87,928.61 from interest accounts.

3. Allowed the board of education to absorb a $106,000 1933 deficit over a period of four months instead of absorbing it in January.

The three budget amendments and the $75,000 for relief were approved by unanimous votes of council and the aldermanic board.

Mayor Key explained to council that he had decided to approve the compromises, but insisted that no guarantee be given the school department that the school book bill would be paid. He cited a resolution on which the 1933 school budget finally had been sanctioned by him was that the department pay for the books, and asserted that school authorities concurred at that time.

Key to Approve Budget.

"I will approve the budget when it comes to me," Key told council, "but I feel that we should not deal definitely and finally with this school book matter at this time. I therefore, have asked members of the finance committee to sign a joint measure withholding definite disposal of the matter."

"We should not tie our own hands, but should leave ourselves free to deal with it later. I take this position because our pension funds in the fire and general departments of the municipality are now depleted. The city charter makes it mandatory that council provide supplementary funds to meet these pensions. Where are we going to get the money to pay them? This is only one of a number of demands which are to be made for funds. We must be able to meet issues squarely and dispose of them in a businesslike way."

Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, chairman of council's finance committee, asked members of the finance committee to sign the condition which Key asked. He took the same position Key did in the matter.

An interesting sidelight of finance committee deliberations during the morning was a motion by Councilman William G. Hastings, of the sixth ward, to provide the $88,000 for school books by making slashes in various governmental divisions.

"I see that there is about $15,000 for the remainder of the year in the salary accounts for members of council, and I move we work for nothing and that item be stricken from the sheet," Hastings said.

His motion was seconded and was passed by a vote of seven for and four against.

Alderman J. Glover Bailey, of the ninth ward, branded the action as childish, asserting it could not have been offered seriously.

"I want to say, Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of this committee, that I do not consider any item amounting to $15,000 as childish," Hastings countered. "I meant that motion. I have been attacked. I am willing to work for nothing if we can get these federal funds here."

Finally the committee decided to take the whole $88,000 from interest accounts, with an understanding that the accounts would be replenished in June, and the resolution cutting the salaries of council members was reconsidered and rescinded.

During deliberations of the finance committee prior to the meeting of council at which Hastings' motion was considered, the mayor asked members to "cut out fiddling and politics and attack the problem with courage."

The mayor previously had called on the council for action, branding the proposed withdrawal of federal relief funds as a major crisis.

Council during the afternoon approved an ordinance by Bailey providing the delinquent taxpayers might pay their taxes in cash and at once and avoid interest charges and advertising costs. It, however, was killed in the aldermanic board.

to carry the mail was not taken up by the senate prevented a new air wing of conflicting views there on the matter.

Temporary Measure.

That measure is temporary in nature, but the senate and house post-office committees took up the bill for permanent legislation on the subject.

Kelly, republican, Pennsylvania, found fault with the bill carrying administration views on what should be done with the air mail, objecting particularly to the clause which would pay the carriers by space instead of poundage.

He termed the space provision "the proposition that caused all our trouble."

Senator Logan, democrat, Kentucky, criticized at the senate hearing several provisions of the bill among them that which would bar companies having claims against the government growing out of the cancellations from bidding for new contracts. He said this would bar any of the concerns that formerly carried the mails from bidding should they press claims growing out of the cancellations.

"Isn't it improper for the government of the United States, to cancel contracts," he asked, "and then say 'if you attempt to inquire into it we will never let you bid on another'?"

W. W. Howes, assistant postmaster-general, was testifying. He said that the postoffice department had not proposed this clause and it was indicated that it might be stricken out.

BANKER'S WIFE DIES IN FALL FROM PORCH

BALTIMORE, March 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Mildred Sheppard Legg, 36, wife of Frederic W. Legg, Baltimore banker, was found dead today on a first-floor porch of her home in Roland Park.

Footprints on the snow of a second-story porch suggested to police that she had walked out on the upper porch and fallen from it.

Mrs. Legg was prominent socially in Baltimore. She is survived by her husband, a daughter and her mother, Mrs. A. Maxwell Sheppard, of Philadelphia.

BRITAIN WILL PUSH BUILDING OF NAVY

House of Commons
Adopts Estimate for '34
Providing Expansion.

LONDON, March 12.—(AP)—The house of commons tonight adopted the government's naval estimates for 1934—calling for an expenditure of 56,550,000 pounds sterling (now about $282,750,000), an increase of about $15,000,000 over last year's estimates, and providing for a cruiser replacement program.

The adoption of the estimates followed a long debate in which a suggestion was put forward that an imperial defense conference be called prior to the proposed 1935 naval conference to enable the United Kingdom and Dominion governments to agree on a minimum naval strength.

The assurance that the royal navy will have in all classes of vessels the full tonnage allowed by treaty when the London naval treaty expires December 31, 1936, was given by Sir Bolton Eyre-McNeill, first lord of the admiralty.

To achieve these totals, however, it will be necessary to retain in service over-age cruisers, destroyers and submarines, he explained, even although Britain will have utilized, with the exception of destroyers, practically all the new tonnage she is allowed to lay down under the treaty.

Presenting the naval estimates which are increased 2,380,000 pounds (about $12,000,000) over last year's, Sir Bolton also made a vigorous defense of the battleship, declaring that for many reasons Britain could not permit the United States to build a capital ship, as proposed in some quarters.

Capital ships were fixed under the Washington naval treaty; the London treaty governs cruisers, destroyers and submarines. This pact called for considerable reduction of British forces, while permitting the United States substantial new construction to achieve the parity conceded by Britain.

Britain to Call Parley
ON AIR FORCE PARITY

PARIS, March 12.—(UP)—Great Britain is planning to take the initiative in an entirely new disarmament move and call an air power conference to discuss parity of air armadas, it was learned reliably tonight.

The call for this air conference will come shortly after receipt in London of the French note rejecting the latest British plan for general arms control, it was understood.

The parley will meet either in London or a neutral capital.

Burnstine Five Wins Reisinger Trophy

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—David Burnstine and his "four aces and a joker" team of four and an alternate tonight won the Reisinger trophy from a team captained by Waldemar Von Zedtwitz.

The cup, one of the highest team trophies for four honors in bridge, was won by a margin of 2,180 points, most of it amassed during the night session.

Members of the team besides Burnstine were Oswald Jacoby, Howard Schenken, Michael T. Gottlieb and Richard L. Frey, alternate. Members of the Von Zedtwitz team besides himself were Miss Elinor Clement, Mrs. Emory Clement and Sherman Stearns. All of the players live in New York. Fifty hands were played.

Insull Reported Ready For Return to America

ATLANTA, March 12.—(UP)—Samuel Insull, former Chicago millionaire unwanted here and unable to get a visa for most countries in Europe, may give up the fight and return to the United States to face trial, it was learned today.

The elderly utilities magnate, in poor health and worn by continuous efforts to escape extradition to America on charges of fraud, was represented as weary of the struggle and resigned to his fate.

HOSIERY MILL DEFIES LABOR BOARD RULING

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—Officials of the Harriman Hosiery Mills Company, Harrogate, Tenn., at a hearing before the national labor board today, reiterated their refusal to recognize the ruling of the board in a labor dispute involving the right of workers to bargain collectively.

The hearing was called by the board in a final effort to persuade the company to re-employ some 500 striking workers and permit workers to bargain collectively, but T. Asbury Wright, counsel, said the company's attitude was that the strikers should continue to be strikers, receiving government relief, and that the board should let the company alone.

The board's finding of fact, completed February 27, charged the company with "entering negotiations in bad faith with the definite intention not to make any agreement."

It quoted Polk Tarwater, vice president of the company, as saying "the company is consistently taking the position that it would not recognize a union in its plant; that it would not enter into written contracts either with individuals or representatives of a group of its employees; that it would not submit any question on which it and its employees or their representatives could not agree to arbitration."

WILES EXECUTED FOR KILLING CHILD

49-Year-Old Carolinian Confesses Before Going to Death Chamber.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 12.—(AP) Robert H. Wiles, 49-year-old automobile mechanic and World War veteran, was put to death in the electric chair here today for the confessed abduction and murder of Hubbard H. Harris Jr., 12-year-old schoolboy.

Wiles had implicated another person in the abduction at the time of his arrest, but shortly before the fatal electric current shot through his body said he alone was responsible and that he assumed the entire blame.

Calm and smiling, Wiles walked into the execution chamber and said he was prepared to pay for his crime. He was pronounced dead at 6:08 a. m.

Oral English Class To Sponsor Benefit Today at Seminary

A benefit bridge will be sponsored by the Oral English Class of Washington Seminary on Tuesday afternoon, March 13, at 3 o'clock in the dormitory parlors. The tickets are 25 cents, and a special feature will be the fashion show presented by Leon Frohman. The models will be girls selected from the five upper classes.

The money received from the benefit will go to the fund the class is raising to give lessons to a child suffering from serious speech and body defects. Without the child can never approach a normal life or become an independent member of society. The lessons are being given by Mrs. W. W. Davidson, who has become well known throughout Georgia and in many southern states as a pioneer worker in speech defects. She has had unusual success with many children and the Oral English class feels that their protegee, June, stands a good chance of improvement.

Miss Marjorie Shuler Speaks To B. and P. Women This Evening

Miss Marjorie Shuler, of New York city, corresponding secretary and publicity chairman of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who speaks Tuesday evening on "What Is Your Line?" at the public relations dinner to be given at the Henry Grady hotel by the Atlanta Business and Professional Women's Club.

National business women's week was proclaimed on Sunday by President Roosevelt, who, in a message to Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman, of Richmond, Va., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, praised women for their understanding of human needs and appealed for their continued courage, vision, initiative and co-operation. He said "that due to woman's indefatigable effort much social legislation has already been achieved both in state and federal government in the way both of permanent statutes and emergency measures."

President Roosevelt's proclamation in a measure took the place of the formal announcement which was to have been made by Mrs. Roosevelt, who was scheduled to speak Monday in a coast-to-coast broadcast, but who is in Puerto Rico. Mrs. Roosevelt will be heard over Station WABC, Columbia network, on Saturday, March 17, from 4 to 4:15 o'clock.

National business women's week in Atlanta was formally ushered in with a radio message Sunday morning over WGST by Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor of the church of the air, who paid glowing tribute to women generally and expressed his belief that largely through women will come about a more humane distribution of profits of industry, and therefore, a more just social and economic status generally. He spoke of the remarkable achievement of women in scientific and research and practically all lines of endeavor, touching on the fine work of numerous women leaders, including Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Frances Perkins, Miss Grace Abbott, Miss Mary Anderson, Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owens and others. He referred to Mrs. Perkins' effort "to sweeten the air of man-made sweat shops" and to the religious and humanitarian effort of such women as Evangeline Booth, Aimee Semple McPherson and others. He said the churches of the country "would collapse between Sundays if it were not for the great effort put forth by the women."

Officers and a large number of the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Atlanta attended the service at Druid Hills Baptist church on Sunday morning. In a prelude to his sermon, Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor, said that women from earliest Biblical days down to modern times, has displayed passionate impulses for the common good and has rendered the greatest possible service to the world. He expressed the belief that women are coming

This meeting, which is open to the public, will be held in the ballroom of the Atlanta Woman's Club. CARMEN REPEATS DANCING TRIUMPH AT THE ATLANTA

This week at the Atlanta burlesque production they have a scene of the jungle, with the girls as savage warriors. High up, back stage, is the figure of a huge gorilla and in its huge hairy arms is clasped the white body of a woman. After the dance to the drums, the woman moves, stretches and comes down to the stage. It is Carmen.

Then she does a dance that no other living woman could accomplish. Technically, it is to be presumed, it would be called a contortion dance. But such contortions, if she has a spine it must be made of elastic and if she has bones they must be as supple as rubber.

In the second half of the show there is an apple blossom scene which is really beautiful and Ollie Hodges again proves he has by far the best voice yet heard at this theater. And Carmen and her partner, Juan Mario, do a waltz that is a perfect dream of graceful rhythm.

Aside from Carmen the show ranks about with those of the past four weeks. The dances are similar in type and tempo, the comedy is along the same order and the strippers are, of course, the same.

Billy Joy and Louise, the dancing team that has injected so much pep into the performances, are just as fast and clever as ever, with some really original dance steps. The night-gown dance with the intermittent light is especially good, though there was no necessity for the decorations they carried in their hands.

The audience apparently enjoyed the show to the utmost. There was lots of applause and noise from the gallery, while there was a lady sitting behind me who shrieked with laughter until my ears rang.

Next week the old favorite of the comedians, Hap Farnell, is returning to the Atlanta. Snooky Woods is also coming back. They'll open at a midnight show on Sunday.

With Carmen, Snooky and Hap all in the same show anybody who ever found anything they enjoyed in burlesque ought to be delighted. Certainly, burlesque offers nothing more.

'BALLYHOO' REVUE BEST STAGE SHOW SEEN AT CAPITOL

Why the brunette Maxine, whose stage show is the feature attraction this week at the Capitol theater, calls her offering "Ballyhoo" revue is explained. Perhaps it is because her comedians look as though they might have stepped out of the pages of the well-known magazine of that title.

Anyhow, it is a good show, ranking just about the best seen on the Capitol stage since that theater added the flesh and blood attraction to its screen offerings. It has snap and class in its dancing, singing and music and the comedy—well, that is only interlude, as it were, while the performers change costumes.

There are half a dozen girls in the line who earn their money chiefly by their specialty work. Three of them, for instance, do some stepping as a dancing trio that would grace any show. And individually they put on worth-while numbers.

The girl vocalist, who sings that "Dream Walking" song and "Shanghai Lil," got the biggest hands of the show Monday afternoon. Then there is an acrobatic dancing team that is excellent, particularly the girl member. Though you must give the boy credit, he throws his lady friend around with reckless abandon, and a couple of good masculine dancers. And the stage band.

One of the comedians is good in an eccentric dance and there is a hot sort of xylophone number. Personally, I thought the act which received top billing—a girl doing a rumba dance—was the most disappointing item on the show.

The picture is "Orient Express," a production that holds interest from beginning to end. It is reminiscent of "Shanghai Express," and follows the precedent set by "Grand Hotel" in developing its plot in a semi-public locale with the influence of one character upon another as the basis for its drama. This time, as the title tells, the locale is a fast passenger train speeding across eastern Europe.

There is a W. C. Fields short comedy—this comedian is always worth the price of admission alone—a "Hollywood Parade" short—these always impress me as demonstrations of screen players taking themselves too seriously—and other items to round out a program that is superlatively good value for the seat of prices.

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

A Grand Slam on a Triple Squeeze.

It is often said that when a grand slam is contracted for and the adverse cards are normally divided, the slam can be made in one or both hands. This is not necessarily true. If during the bidding the partnership discloses a solid trump suit, all the aces and some intermediates, the grand slam can and should be bid, based on the gamble that these intermediates will appear where they are not most needed. Occasionally, of course, a grand slam held in one or both hands turns out to be useless and, as a result, Declarer either cannot make the hand or must resort to a squeeze.

Such was the case on the hand below:

South Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

♠ A 7 6 3
♥ 9 3
♦ A J 10 8
♣ A 7 5

♠ Q J 10 2
♥ 6 5 2
♦ K 8 5 2
♣ K 8 4 2

♠ K 5
♥ A K Q J 10 7 4
♦ 3
♣ A 10

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South West North East
1♥ Pass 2NT(1) Pass
4NT(2) Pass 5NT(3) Pass
7♣(4) Pass Pass Pass

1—Since the North hand contains over 2-1/2 honor-tricks this bid cannot be criticized. Two diamonds, however, is a slightly better bid.

2—South knows he is going to play the hand at hearts, even though his partner never supports the suit. He accordingly uses the four no-trump convention to ascertain whether his partner holds the two remaining aces.

3—The automatic response, showing possession of two aces.

4—With his partner's first-round two no-trump bid and the definite knowledge that North holds two aces, South is justified in contracting for the grand slam. The king of clubs, king of diamond or queen of spades in the North hand will give South his thirteenth trick.

It is easily seen that North had none of the cards needed to make the grand slam a laydown. As a result, the Declarer was obliged to take advantage of a slip by the defense, followed by a squeeze.

The queen of spades was opened, and the trick was won with the king. Two rounds of trumps were followed by a low diamond to the ace, and then the knave of diamonds was returned. East playing the king. This play by East is a more or less normal one, but it resulted in paving the way for the subsequent squeeze. South now played the ace of clubs, and then ran his trump suit. The situation after 10 tricks was as follows:

♠ A 7
♥ 10
♦ 5
♣ 7

♠ J 10
♦ 8
♣ 10

♠ 9 3
♥ A K Q J 10 7 4
♣ A 10

When the last trump was led East and West were helpless. West must discard a spade to keep the diamond ten covered, and if East discards a spade also, Dummy's ace and seven will take the last two tricks. If East discards the club king, as he actually did, the ten of clubs wins and the ace of spades takes the last trick.

TOMORROW'S HAND.
Assuming that South is the final Declarer at a contract of three no-trump (as a result of a series of pay-chic bids by North and West), how can the contract be made?

North and South vulnerable.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

VISITS IN STARLAND.
II—Size of the Planets.

I know a little boy named Gene, barely three years old, who has taken a keen interest in the moon and the stars. Last summer, just before he went to bed, he sometimes would say, "Goodnight moon! Goodnight stars!"

Let us compare the planets in a rough way. We may think of Mercury as a pinhead, Mars as a grain of rice, Venus and the earth as small peas, Uranus and Neptune as cherries, and Saturn and Jupiter as large plums. The size of Pluto is not certainly known.

All the planets might be placed inside the sun, with space left for many others.

In addition to the planets named, we have the Little Planets, also called "Plutoids" or "Asteroids."

The Little Planets are extremely small, compared with the others. Very likely they are the broken parts of a planet which exploded vast ages ago, or of two planets which bumped into each other.

About 1,100 Little Planets are known at the present time; but there may be many more than that. Some are so small that they have been brought into sight only by recently-built telescopes of great power.

Part of the Little Planets measure only three to six miles in diameter. If you could go to one of them, and live after you got there, you would find yourself very light-footed. It would be no trick, while you were running to take steps 50 or 60 feet in length.

Pine Burrs Ought To Insure Sleep on the cone of the pieces put in the pattern.

The full size pattern leaflet may be obtained by following the directions on the back of the leaflet. Once you have this you can get to work. You will notice that no seam allowances are made in the pattern as given. This means you must allow one-eighth inch on all sides for seam allowance. If you want to piece the center block you may cut four pieces as shown in the sheet or you may cut a five-inch square instead. There is less work, of course, if you cut the square. But the small pieces may be better with the material you have on hand.

This pattern is an all-over one and is best carried from end to end and from side to side of the quilt.

The drawing shows a striped piece of material for the one part of the pine burr but this is not advisable unless the stripes are so fine it is almost lost in the piece. A small all-over patterned print is better. Be sure the material is color-fast.

Bind the quilt and use the same kind of material for the back as is used for the plain part of the top. Then the two wear and launder alike. This is a good quilt for a man or boy's room.

The actual pattern for "Pine Burr" quilt design may be obtained by sending three cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Nancy Page in care of The Atlanta Constitution. Additional three cents for each pattern requested.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.
Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield:

I am a widower several years senior to a widow whom I am going to marry. I believe she loves me but she declines my offer of marriage because she promised her dead husband that she would never remarry. She is sure that her conscience would not permit her to have a minute's peace if she violated this promise. She has also lost her three children and is a very much bereaved woman. Is there no way for me to win her?

IMPORUNATE.

There are a few things that a woman can hardly resist: One is the compelling power of a man's love and another is tender sympathy offered to her when she is in distress. A widower anxious to console a bereaved widow and anxious to make her his wife when he has lost three children and has about 999 chances in 1,000 of seeing his hopes materialize. Patience, persistence, aided by propinquity, sets the stage for an acceptance of his proposal.

Not even a promise to a dead loved one can outdo the progress of love in a heart that is alive and this is right and proper. For if all the lives of loved ones left behind this would be a dreary world indeed. Yet, it is easy to understand that a woman having given her husband such a promise, in an effort to comfort him in his last hours, cannot soon forget her pledge. It hovers over her like a bird of evil omen, threatening, terrifying.

There is something pathetic, and at the same time repulsive, about a man's trying to take his wife into the grave with him. His mind weakened by disease and approaching death cannot function normally and in his wild hope to hang on to life he lays hold on his wife's life.

This piece of advice: Don't be too importunate, let the widow convince herself that she is not bound, remembering the old proverb: "A woman convinced against her will, etc." CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I am a lonely girl, living on a farm and crazy to get away from it. I am engaged to a boy I don't care much about. He is my parents' disapproval of him we are thinking of running away to get married. My brother has a friend that I like awfully well, only he has showed no liking for me. I can't decide whether to go on with my plans or to wait hoping this boy may fall in love with me. Help me to decide.

DODD, ROBERT JOIN FORCES FOR PIN EVENT

Some 25 Teams Now Entered in Constitution Meet Saturday Night.

By Jack Troy.

Bobby Dodd, who is capable of doing more anything athletic well when the pressure is on, and Chip Robert Jr., have entered their names for the second annual Constitution handicap doubles ducky event on St. Patrick's day in the evening.

Bobby recently accepted a challenge to bowl Miss Bebe Bangert, leading woman star in the city, and won out by one pin. In order to win he had to bowl "over his head," after a manner of speaking.

To many it seemed luck, but it really was the old competitive spirit asserting itself. Dodd and Robert form a popular team. And a very capable one.

25 TEAMS ALREADY.

There are now some 25 teams entered in The Constitution tournament which last year was the largest doubles ducky event ever in the states. Forty-eight teams participated. This record is expected to go by the boards this year.

Other recent team entries include George Harris and Charlie Wolcott, A. L. Stokes and A. A. Scarborough, John Woods and John W. Wiley, Walter E. Lawson and Dewey (Push Ball) Bowen, Paul S. Etheridge Jr. and Howard (Sticker) Parker, and Gus Allard and Pop Garner.

Engraved gold medals will be the reward for the winning pair. Bowlers will get no entry fee. The only cost is for games bowled.

FIVE-GAME SET.

There will be a five-game championship set. The start is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Saturday night. In the event, however, that some entrants cannot bowl on Saturday night, they will have the privilege of rolling the set on Saturday afternoon.

The tournament will be run according to the rules of the Atlanta Ducky Association and all entrants must have bowled 15 or more games in a league this season.

George Small and John Conyers are the defending champions and have already served notice on the field.

Down the Alleys

Members of the Power Club ladies and men's ducky leagues are in for something different in ducky bowl competition, according to a bulletin that was received recently, which reads in part: "At 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 15 (pay day to you), a party is being staged on the lawn of Old Man John Black's penthouse at theandler Building garage, and all of those who delight in pushing the little ducky pins are urged to be on hand."

A mixed doubles tournament is to be the feature of the occasion, consisting of three games, with handicaps based on season averages. Entry fee will be $1 each, 45 cents of which is to cover the cost of the games and the balance to be distributed in prizes.

All bowlers are to select their own partner in advance of the tournament and should fill out and send in the entry blank at once to S. L. McKinnery, tourney chairman.

FAMOUS GEORGIA ATHLETES TODAY and YESTERDAY

Jim Bagby and His Son.

Jim Bagby, the "old sarge," was standing in front of his sundry, watching his strapping 16-year-old son throw a baseball. The boy was tall for his years and when he wound up he let the ball go with lots of speed.

There was something more than mere fatherly pride in Big Jim's sun-tanned, good-natured face as he watched the boy go through the pitching motions. There was a bit of the critic in that look—an old pitcher watching a young one.

We noticed, however, that not once did Jim Bagby, the elder, stop the boy to show him anything or to discuss pitching with him. We inquired why he did not.

"I'll let him learn his own way," like I learned, that is the best way," the old sarge replied. (Note: the "sarge" was referred to by the late Fuzzy Woodruff, who took it from one of Irvin Cobb's characters—Sergeant Jim Bagby.)

TWO POINTERS.
Jim revealed that he had shown the boy only two things about pitching, and that two years ago. He showed him how to hold a curve ball (the boy was holding it wrongly) and how to get his weight behind his delivery. The kid grasped both tips immediately.

Maybe Big Jim was thinking about himself as he watched his talented offspring. And how he developed his most effective pitch—the fadeaway or screw-ball as it is now called—without any instruction from anybody.

When Jim Bagby Sr. was coming up in baseball old-timers did not take any time with the youngsters—the punks, as they called them. They had to learn for themselves in the school of trial and error. And some great pitchers, including Jim Bagby, learned that way. That was why he has decided to let the boy have his rope.

It was interesting to hear Jim Bagby, the elder, tell of his own early pitching days. "Well, go ahead," he said. "I'll go ahead and tell you. I was in Tallapoosa county, 25 miles from Augusta. And how he developed the fadeaway ball, which is still rated as the best of the major leagues ever saw, next to that of Christy Mathewson."

MUCH SUCCESS.
With it Jim Bagby Sr. had several highly successful years as a big league pitcher, including the notable season of 1920 when he and Coveleskie, of the Cleveland Indians, pitched the only pennant and a world series victory.

Jim Bagby won undying fame that year, winning 31 games and losing 12. It was purely by accident that Jim Bagby discovered the fadeaway while pitching for New Orleans back in 1914.

It was warming up one day and Buck Weaver, the third baseman, was coming across the field. "I believe I'll throw Christy Mathewson's ball," Jim Bagby said to Weaver. "Well, go ahead and throw it," Weaver said as he stood by to watch. I cut loose with the ball with the same grip that Mathewson used, and the ball came out a perfect fadeaway. Weaver was surprised, too, and suggested that I try it in a game.

ARM GOT SORE.
"Well, I did and threw it for about two weeks, finding that I could fool the Southern league hitters with it. Then my arm got sore. I discovered that I was throwing the ball too hard and gripping it too tight. I tried letting up on it a bit, holding the ball loosely, and found that it was a more effective fadeaway and at the same time, easier on my pitching arm."

Jim Bagby takes issue with the popular theory that the fadeaway and the screw ball such as Carl Hubbell throws are one and the same.

"A screw ball," said Jim, "is thrown harder and breaks sharper. The real fadeaway is a lazy delivery that looks just like a fat fast ball coming up to the plate, then it breaks lazily in and down on right-handed hitter and down and out on a left-handed hitter—if a right-hander is throwing it."

Buresch and Smith Top Heights Card
In the main event of Promoter Frank Bettis' card at the Lakewood Heights arena Thursday night, Stanley Buresch, Australian champion, will meet Bull Smith, Hungarian, in a 10-minute match. This is the first time these men have met, and this match is expected to be a rough affair.

In the semi-final match, Whitey Patterson, Pittsburgher, will meet a formidable opponent in Eddie Wagner, former navy champion. Wagner challenged Patterson for a match last week. This will be a "grudge" affair. Bill Ward will meet Young London in the opening match.

Y-Church Adds Three New Teams
The addition of three new clubs to the Y-Church Athletic Association aided in the formation of the league that will be sponsored coming season. The new clubs were given the places made vacant in the league by former teams that will not operate this season. The all-sports committee headed by Al Speer, of Calvary Methodist club, reported much progress for the past week and expected to have many new members for the association at the next meeting.

PAYNE WHITNEY STABLE ENTERS SIX IN DERBY

Black Buddy and Spy Hill Head Entry for May Event.

By Thomas H. Noone, United Press Racing Editor.
RED BANK, N. J., March 12.—(AP)—Six other Payne Whitney's Green tree stable, which supplied the Kentucky Derby winner in 1931 in Twenty Grand, will be well represented in the 1934 edition of the historic turf classic if her pink and black colors are flowing at Churchill Downs in the big race on Derby day. Five colts and a gelding have been nominated to sport her silks.

Black Buddy, the best two-year-old in the Green tree barn last season, spent the winter at the Whitney farm in Kentucky, but is expected here next week when Trainer William Brennan hopes to begin active training of his charges with the Kentucky Derby his objective.

SPY HILL LIKED.
Spy Hill, Brennan's personal selection of the lot, spent the winter at the local farm and impresses the writer as a colt that will bear watching in his three-year-old campaign. Earnings, the gelding also quartered here, and although well bred—by John P. Grier out of Bonus—does not appear to possess Derby quality. The Triumvir, a colt by Pompey, has been losing overnight races this season and will not be pointed for the Kentucky stake.

Soon Over, a favorite for the $10,000 added Florida Derby at Hialeah park, Miami, next Saturday, was not particularly impressive in winning his lone trip to the races this season. His Kentucky management is contingent upon his performance in next week's race.

Black Buddy's record last year stands as a record for two-year-olds, shaping up favorably with the best of the poor crop of 1933 juveniles. He won three of his 11 races which, including his Kentucky Derby, included Stallion stakes at Belmont Park. He finished fifth on the money winning list with earnings of $23,630.

Sp Hill, a bay colt by Spion Kop, out of Marvella II, is bred to stay any distance. His sire, a son of Spearmint, won the Kentucky Derby in 1926. Sp Hill was an early appearance at Arlington Park did not run until the Saratoga meeting. He won a race at the spa on August 3, beating Trumpeter Victor, High Quest and nine others, including his stablemate, Soon Over. This was his only winning race, however, being unplaced in his next four starts. He is expected to present plans, Sp Hill will go to the post early in the Maryland meeting before being shipped to Kentucky.

Freddie Lassiter beat Stanley Buresch last night at the Fair Street arena, Fair street and Capitol avenue. Buresch, a former champion, was the winner in recent weeks, topping even the scarp between Lassiter and Bill Crussell.

Niehoff Addresses Amateur Leaders
Approximately 30 baseball teams are now enrolled in the Southern Amateur Athletic Association, with three leagues definitely formed, it was disclosed at a meeting at Harrison & Short's sporting goods store Monday night, at which Bert Niehoff was the principal speaker.

Niehoff has been appointed arbiter of the association's rules. He stated his enthusiasm in finding so many members already enrolled and predicted one of the best seasons in the history of amateur baseball for this season.

He pointed out the lack of amateur ball diamonds in the city. He stated that the city should be made aware of the number of amateur teams in the city.

TAMPA, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—With 19 days to go, Florida has collected $685,303 in taxes from horses and dogs running on 10 tracks.

A report furnished the Tampa Tribune by the state racing commission showed that revenue through February 27 was only $70,835 short of the total intake for the 1932-33 season.

The 1932-33 gross revenue was $765,130, the net $710,000.

Tall Tales Contest Enters Stretch—Wednesday Is Deadline
The Constitution's Tall Tales contest is on the final lap and the tall tales are pouring in. Yesterday's mail carried the biggest batch yet.

Mr. Ed Holden, of Clayton, Ga., takes issue with Mr. Noel, of Cartersville, on the assertion that he has missed only two quail in the past five years. There is no need for anyone to try to beat Mr. Noel's story, he declares.

Yet Mr. Holden is willing to try to disprove Mr. Noel's assertion in that he has shot several cases of shells a season. He must mean boxes, Mr. Holden avers.

The fun goes merrily on. Mr. Noel's story is one of many. Ernest Ray, of White, Ga., tells about a dog chasing a rabbit down a cotton row, in the middle of which stood a demijohn of water. GARDEN SEEKS DATE IN JUNE FOR TITLE GO Progress Made in Secret Conference Between Officials and Managers.

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Progress toward matching Primo Carnera, heavyweight champion, and Max Baer, California challenger, for a title fight here next summer was made in lengthy conferences here today, but no final agreement was reached between the fighters' representatives and Madison Square Garden.

"We're not as far apart as we were," said Colonel John Reed Kilpatrick, Garden president, after calling off negotiations for the day with Ancil Hoffman, manager of Baer, and Louis Soresi, representative of the champion. "We're going to continue talking it over until something definite develops."

Kilpatrick's statement followed an erroneous report that Carnera and his outstanding challenger had agreed to terms for a match here September 15.

"That is entirely incorrect," Kilpatrick said. "There are still several points to be cleared up, we hope, however, to reach an understanding eventually."

Kilpatrick said he preferred that the match between the champion who successfully withstood Tommy Loughran's challenge in Miami ten days ago and Baer, knockout conqueror of Max Schmeling, be fought in June, rather than September.

Today's discussions, which lasted for several hours and were conducted in a secret meeting place brought the match closer to reality than at any time since Carnera won his title last summer from Jack Sharkey and established himself as the outstanding contender. Although the Garden has been bidding constantly for the match, several have been turned down.

DEMPEY'S CUT.
Baer and his manager have insisted that Jack Dempsey, who promoted the Baer-Schmeling match here last summer, be given a share in the promotion of the title bout, a point on which the Garden refused to give ground. Baer also insisted that he be entitled to more than the challenger's normal share of the gate receipts, 12-12 per cent.

Kilpatrick refused to discuss any concessions that might have been made on either side in bringing the match closer to the signing point.

The Texas Tornado—Female Ruler of All the Babe's

Babe Didrikson, of Dallas, Texas, aged 22, earned her fame as the one-woman track team in Chicago, 1932, where she captured six firsts. In the last Olympic games she started three times and broke three world's women records in the javelin, the high jump and the hurdles. Her favorite sports include all track and field events, baseball, boxing, swimming, diving, football, golf, tennis, horseback riding and basketball, where she is at her best. The famous Babe is shown here winning a running race at Chicago and Los Angeles, 1932. Horton Figures Bobby 8-1 Shot at Augusta Doubts if Emperor Will Cast "Jones Spell" Over Field; Says He's Ready.

By Dillon Graham, Associated Press Sports Writer.
Horton Smith, the last golfer to beat Bobby Jones, figures Jones is no better than an 8-to-1 shot to win the Masters' tournament in his comeback at Augusta this month.

And he doubts if the grand-slam king of 1930 will hold the same psychological grip over the professionals he was popularly believed to have held in his former competitive days.

"Frankly, I know that Jones' presence will have no effect on my game," said the slender young professional who outpointed Bobby by a single stroke in the Savannah open of February, 1930.

"I believe it will make me play better, if anything. I won't worry about Bob. I just play my own game and never think about the other fellow."

"Of course, I can't speak authoritatively for all the professionals, but I honestly believe most of them will regard Jones as just another great golfer—not an invincible one—and will fire away with the idea that their chances to win are about as good as his," Smith explained.

Because Paul Runyan, the White Plains (N. Y.) pro, has played the most consistent golf during the winter tour, Horton feels he likely will be the professional's strongest threat against Jones. Runyan and Jones should be listed together at 8 to 1, with Denny Shute, who is playing a fine game now, at 9 to 1, and a dozen pros, perhaps even including me, at 10 to 1.

DOZEN HAVE CHANCE.
He doesn't expect Jones and Runyan to make a two-man race of it but thinks that any one of a dozen players can and may win.

Smith feels that Bobby faces a most difficult task in trying to win at Augusta. It depends, he says, on Jones' mental attitude, the faster pace among the pros, and the "breaks."

Smith feels that Jones is hitting the ball as well as ever. But the mental strain will be heavy. It may be hard for him to get back his perfect concentration. He will be filled with anxiety. I have found that after a lay-off sometimes you return with ambition that enables you to play better than ever and other times the anxiousness works against your game.

"Also the pace is faster than in the days Jones played. I believe the leading professionals are 25 per cent improved. There are more good players now and the boys at the top just naturally have to shoot lower scores to get in the money," Smith said.

YOUNGER STARS.
A number of younger stars have come along in the last four years who have never played against Jones and some of them are confident enough not to have any fear of Bobby. Runyan, one who has never played in a tournament with Jones since his game propelled him among the leaders.

"If the professionals play the same fine golf at Augusta that they have displayed in other tournaments this season, I have found that after a lay-off sometimes you return with ambition that enables you to play better than ever and other times the anxiousness works against your game."

Two Best Amateurs Top Pros, Says Feret
NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Paul Feret, a member of Suzanne Lenglen's touring troupe of professionals in 1928, but now again an amateur, entered in the United States indoor tennis championships, believes "the two best amateurs" would prevail over the "two best pros" in an open tournament.

The black-thatched Frenchman selects as the two outstanding amateurs Fred Perry, of England, holder of the United States singles title, and Jack Crawford, of Australia, winner of the 1933 Wimbledon and French championships.

"Crawford and Perry are Vines' masters at any time, I believe," Feret said today. "And either one of them, provided he is playing his best, can beat Tilden."

Feret, who is 32 years old, prefers amateur to pro tennis, and favors an open tournament.

FORMER VANDY PLAYER BOASTS GREAT RECORD

Turned Out Championship Teams While at Columbia, Tenn.

Captain Henry R. (Red) Sanders, head coach of Columbia Military Academy at Columbia, Tenn., has signed a two-year contract as head coach at Riverside Military Academy, it was announced Monday by Colonel Sandy Beaver.

Captain Sanders will assume his new duties June 1, and will serve as field representative of Riverside during the summer months.

For the past three years Captain Sanders has been head coach at C. M. A. and has turned out some of the south's strongest prep teams.

CHAMPIONS.
In 1931, his first year there, C. M. A. defeated every prep school opponent to win the state championship. The following year was even greater, as the Cadets downed all opponents and permitted the opposition to score but seven points in eight games. They were considered southern prep champions.

Last season, playing in the High School Association, C. M. A. won six, tied one and lost only to Kentucky Military Institute.

His Sanders-coached baseball teams have been highly successful, winning the mid-south championship last spring, as it lost no games to a prep nine. The basketball team, while winning no championship, has been regarded as one of the strongest in middle Tennessee.

LEADING SCHOOLS.
Riverside is one of the nation's distinguished military schools. The fall and spring terms are conducted at Greenville, Ga., and the winter term at Hollywood-by-the-Sea, Fla., near Miami, and there has the largest enrollment of any military academy in the United States.

Sanders was a varsity football and baseball player at Vanderbilt for three seasons. Serving as captain of the latter team, his senior year. Before going to C. M. A. he served as assistant to Josh Cody at Clemson College.

Sanders graduated from Riverside himself in 1923.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON
Central Press Associate

Head CAN MOVE BUT MUST NOT TURN, RAISE NOR LOWER.
295

Alex Morrison says: Your head can move, but must not turn, raise or lower. This is probably not understood by one golfer in 10,000.

Why? Fairly good notions about the proper head position during the swing keeps the player from observing that, in the good player's swing, owing to the lateral motion the head must move from side to side.

Although the head moves laterally it does not turn to the left or right. Nor does it move to the north or south.

The head can move slightly from side to side but it should not turn with the body nor raise or lower.

The roll is still open in these leagues and any commercial team is invited to join.

The City league will also have its weekly meeting at 7:30 o'clock at the same place.

N. Y. BANK CUTS RATES ON LARGE ACCOUNTS

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Trustees of the Bowery Savings bank, one of the largest savings institutions in New York, today reduced interest payments to 21-2 per cent from 3 per cent on accounts of over $1,000. On accounts of less than $1,000 the bank will continue to pay the 3 per cent rate that has been in effect.

The generally reduced earning power of money, chiefly as a result of the low income on government bonds and curtailed returns from mortgage investments, was believed responsible for the reduction by the trustees, who also limited new accounts to $1,000 in the future.

Anti-Lynch Bill Is Indorsed By Methodist Women's Body

Council Also Protests Compulsory Military Training in State-Supported Schools.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 12.—

(P)—Indorsement of the Costigan-Wagner anti-lynching bill, now pending in congress, and protests against compulsory military training in state supported schools today were voted by the twenty-fourth annual session of the women's missionary council of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in its final session.

The resolution on lynching set forth that in the past 44 years, "3,781 persons have met death at the hands of cruel lynchers and more appalling still only 12 of those guilty of participation in these mobs have been convicted."

Weakness of local courts in dealing with mobs, was criticized in the resolution declaring "the lack of local character gives little hope of delivering us from the terrible situation of mob violence and outlaws in which we find ourselves."

Missionary societies throughout the denomination were asked to join in asking support of the anti-lynching bill.

The opposition to the compulsory military training in universities and other colleges was addressed to the general conference, which meets in Jackson, Miss., in April, asking that that body of the denomination take similar action.

The council also asked delegates to check the primary laws in the various states to determine if white primaries were being held at the expense of the negroes, as a means to improve race relations.

The Tennessee Valley Authority's program for improving life of rural families was indorsed by the council, which also voted to place a social worker in the interdenominational committee.

Members of the missionary societies were urged to support the NRA through making their purchases from firms that are members and products produced by member manufacturers.

Two new members at large to the council's governing body were elected and eight members renamed.

They are: New members, Mrs. W. B. Landrum, of Fort Worth, Texas, and Mrs. Hugh Steele, of Nashville.

Members re-elected, Miss Daisy Davis, of Atlanta; Miss Mabel K. Howell, of Nashville; Mrs. R. L. Hodby, of Union Springs, Ala.; Mrs. Henry P. Owens, of Kansas City, Mo.; Miss Louise Young, of Nashville; Mrs. A. B. Smith, of Stone, Ky., and Mrs. Harwell Wilson, of Winter Haven, Florida.

The list of officers who will be submitted with the 10 members at large to the general conference in Jackson, Miss., are Mrs. J. W. Perry, Chattanooga, president; Mrs. J. W. Mills, Beaumont, Texas, vice president; Mrs. F. S. Parker, Nashville, recording secretary; Mrs. Ina Davis Fulton, Nashville, treasurer; Mrs. Helen B. Bourne, Athens, Ala., secretary of education and promotion; Miss Estelle Haskins, of Nashville, secretary of publications; Miss Constance Rumbough, of Nashville, secretary of children's work; Mrs. W. A. Newell, Greensboro, N. C., superintendent bureau of Christian social relations; Mrs. Nat Rollins, Abilene, Texas, calendar clerk; Mrs. J. W. Downs, Nashville, secretary of home missions; Miss Nellie Lou Kenison, secretary of foreign missions.

The convention will meet in St. Louis, Mo., in 1935.

DEATH OF CHASTAIN IS LAID TO EPILEPSY

A coroner's jury Monday returned a verdict of death from an attack of epilepsy in the case of John Kennedy Chastain, 47, Georgia Tech graduate and electrical engineer, who died early Saturday night in a cell in the police station where he was lodged on a charge of drunkenness.

Chastain, who resided at 497 Tenth street, N. E., collapsed in a cell after being arrested by Policeman N. E. Nolan. Fellow prisoners called a turnkey and Chastain was rushed to Grady hospital, where physicians pronounced him dead.

Chastain's personal physician told the coroner's jury at the Brandon-Bond-Condor Company that a skull fracture suffered by Chastain in an automobile accident 12 years ago in Detroit caused him to suffer attacks of epilepsy and that he suffered two such attacks last week.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Peachtree chapel. The Rev. M. M. Walraven and the Rev. G. C. Light officiated and interment was in Crest Lawn cemetery.

Thompson is from Michigan, where he was state commander of the Maccabees before being elected national head last July.

KESSLER IS SHOWING ITS LARGEST STOCK

Kessler's store at Whitehall and Hunter streets will offer a special piece goods demonstration all this week, showing the new spring fabrics and styles in their windows.

Walter Kessler, general manager of the store, has just returned from the eastern markets, and said the store had the largest selection of merchandise in its history, and that space has been almost doubled to give room for the stock.

SPAIN IS DISTURBED BY STRIKE DISORDERS

Government Takes Precautions Against Recurrence of December Revolt.

MADRID, March 12.—(AP)—Spontaneous disorders disturbed Madrid today, while a general strike spread to Segovia and Alcoy, Alicante province.

Utmost precautions were taken by the government to maintain order, for Spain has been uneasy since suppression of the costly December revolt.

Extremists have called strikes throughout the country and they were given impetus today by the walkout of allied printing trade workers.

All Madrid newspapers ceased publication, beginning today.

A Catholic kindergarten was set afire, police said, by radical laborers, but civil guards extinguished the flames. The children were removed in safety and two men were arrested.

Furnishings of the school were badly damaged.

Guards had several hand-to-hand street cars and attempted to overturn them in the Las Dantas and Diago Leon districts.

Several strikers were jailed.

An attempt was made to bomb a newspaper here which was opened despite strike orders, but guards foiled it.

At Cadiz authorities ordered a search of homes of rightist leaders, following information 1,000 pistols and 50 machine guns were unloaded from an unidentified German freighter recently.

Conflicting reports said the guns were destined for fascist or other rightist groups.

$25,000 Alienation Suit Settled for $250 Cash

An alienation of affection suit for $25,000 was settled out of court Monday when Mrs. J. A. Alred accepted $250 in her suit in Fulton superior court against Mrs. Natalie Jennings.

Mrs. Alred charges in her petition that the defendant furnished her husband with fine liquor, took long trips with him and finally came to live in the Alred home.

battles with extremists, who stoned crows bore good fruit. I think I have found out a good deal about the winter concentration points of crows, and so on, all of which will be turned over to the American Game Association for their files. In the meantime,

I am going to tell some of you how to tackle the crow. It is said that the crow is one of the hardest things in the world to shoot, because it is such a very sly bird. Well and good. All you have to do is put a stuffed owl in the top of a tree, and every crow for miles around will flock to attack it. The owls make the nights miserable for the crows, and the crows in turn, make the days miserable for the owls whenever they can find them.

Shooting at them from a blind will enable you to get quite a number.

Crows may be baited in other ways,

also, but this method will keep them in an uproar, and the crack of a small-bore rifle at a fair range will not disturb them seriously. Just sit in the blind and take your time.

Some bird lovers might object on the grounds that wholesale practise of this method will exterminate the crow.

To such I would say that the crow is far too wily a bird to become exterminated by such childish means. While the method I am advocating will control crows in a restricted area, it will not make a dent in the total crow population of the state unless very, very widely adopted, and that is more than the most enterprising nature editor can hope for. If you want an article on the restoration of the crow, go into this program in a big way,

and then I'll tell you how to get him
